The Interchange Development Group is pleased to announce the release of Interchange 5.4.3 and 5.6.1, maintenance releases to the current and previous stable versions of Interchange.

There were several changes, including bugfixes to prevent cross-site scripting prevention and to fix regressions in the previous releases.

In addition, we are also providing the first release to show work underway on the new development branch, Interchange 5.7.1. It includes all known bug and security fixes, as well as new features. See the release notes for complete details.
